Fall 2011 Staff: Senior Blogger

Thank you for your interest in joining the staff of the American University Intellectual Property Brief. The IP Brief provides the IP community with traditional academic articles on intellectual property law, and also provides daily blogs with news and commentary about the latest in IP law.

Position description: The Senior Blogger position is open to students with prior intellectual property experience (through a class and/or work experience) who wish to contribute to a growing online publication. Senior Bloggers will be responsible for two blog posts per month about IP news or events.

To apply, please e-mail the following to ipbrief@wcl.american.edu:

- Short statement of interest answering the following questions:
 - Why do you want to join the staff of the IP Brief?
 - What could you bring to the IP Brief?
 - Why are you interested in intellectual property law? (Mention prior experience here.)
 - What area of IP law most interests you?
- Resume (GPA not necessary)
- Sample blog post on an IP subject (approximately one page, double-spaced). Include a corresponding picture and at least one hyperlink within the post. Please make sure you include a link to the news article, case decision, etc. where you found the topic.
